

SHAYNA ACOSTA

Shayna is the Co-Owner of The Legacy Project Dance Studios, Creative Director of Legacy Creative, Inc. and Owner of The Impossible Movement Workshop. Shayna trained under Dallas Power House, Planet Funk, and Tulsa Ballet. She has a background in Gymnastics, Hip Hop, Contemporary, Ballet, Jazz, Jazz Funk, and Break Dancing. As a Gymnastic Coach she trained under Geza Pozsar the Olympic Floor Routine Choreographer, and currently is hired to create Optional Level Gymnastic Floor & Beam Routines. As a Dancer, You can see Shayna dancing alongside “Hanson” in their award winning VHI/MTV music videos, “Thinking about Something” and “Give a Little”. She also performs with Hanson on stage as well as dances in their “Thinking about Something Tutorial”. She also shared the stage with 4 Time Grammy Winner Israel Houghton. Along with being the Movement Director and Choreographer for several national TV commercials, and choreographer for several Music Videos, including Weston Horn and The Hush’s “Just Can’t Stop”, Shayna has worked as an adjunct professor at Oral Roberts University and Tulsa University within their dance programs. Shayna is married to Adam Acosta and together they have created several hip hop dance crews that have been showcased and won national awards at venues such as World of Dance and Hip Hop Internationals. She is currently working as a Professional Choreographer, Master Class Instructor, Competition Judge and Convention Master Class Teacher.